REPORT OF TRUSTEES OF TOWN LIBRARY

War with its destruction and misery has been brought to us in many books. The fireside charm of an interesting story has been saddened by sorrow and dismay at the terrible disasters, for many a home gave one or all who were near and dear to them. It has taught us many truths, the greatest of all, the art of being kind.

The reading matter of the next few years will thrill with daring and heroic tales. The little book of Owen Winsters, The Pentecost of Calamity, Carry On, Dawson, and Christine speak of the beginning of the war and some great and noble story will be wrought out telling of its end.

Through the kindness of Mr. Berle and daughter, Miss Lina, the Library has received two valuable books, full of wisdom culled from great research and will ever be read with thought and care. We deem it very fortunate to have in our community such an interesting and cultured family.

The historic sketch of Abigail Adams, the Porter books, Churchill's, Rinehart's, will all be read with interest. The new list, it is hoped, will contain something to entertain and inspire all.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD

Feb. 8, 1919.

To the Citizens of Boscawen School District:

At the school meeting held in March 1918, the School Board together with a committee of three citizens, were authorized to install a suitable toilet at the Plains school. The committee appointed were Fred James, Ervin Griffin and Mrs. Alla J. Carter.

It was decided to put a cellar under the school building, thus making room for the toilets as well as a place to store the wood. Anti-frost closets were installed and everything done that could be to avoid freezing, with the exception of installing heat. The total expense of cellar, carpenter work, closets and sewerage was about eleven hundred dollars.

The winter of 1918-1919 having been exceptionally mild, there has been no trouble with frost. It would seem the part of wisdom to install a furnace, for which ample room has been provided, as every New Hampshire winter will not be like the present one. A furnace can be installed, ready for fire, at a cost not exceeding three hundred dollars.

The state board of health in 1917, gave permission to let the Water Street repairs rest until the summer of 1919. Something must be done there this year. Doubtless the Kaustine system is the right one for that school and it can be installed at a reasonable figure.

We wish to call the attention of all parents to the importance of the children attending every session of school when they are physically able to do so. It is not only the law that they shall attend every session, but every session they miss lowers our average attendance thus decreasing our state aid. When we lose state aid our taxes increase.

We hereby notify the selectmen that we need one hundred fifty dollars for text books, scholars' supplies, and flags; and one hundred dollars for high school tuition.

Respectfully submitted,

RALPH W. PILLSBURY,

BESSIE H. FLAGG,

MARION S. FLANDERS,

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Feb. 8, 1919.

To the School Board and Citizens:

The position of the superintendent of schools is not well understood by the average citizen. Like the teachers, he is employed by the school board and does his work wholly subject to the board's direction. After a district has employed a superintendent, the election of well qualified men and women to the school board is not less important, therefore, but more important than before.

Noting the frequent changes that have occurred in your board, I assume that in Boscawen, as elsewhere, it is hard to persuade men and women to accept, and hold, the position. It ought to be somewhat less difficult when a superintendent is employed.

Board membership will always be a thankless, somewhat disagreeable, task. It is no place for a coward, for a man too sensitive to criticism, or for one who is unwilling to bear responsibility without adequate financial return. To the man or woman who realizes the tremendous importance to the community and to the state of the highest type of schools that the district can in any way afford, who sees clearly the spiritual values that are produced by a generation of good teaching, and who is convinced that good schools actually pay in dollars and cents, to that person membership on the school board offers the highest opportunity for unselfish, patriotic service.

Such men and women need not now be kept from broad membership because they have not the time or the patience to bother with details or because they are not informed concerning modern school practice. They may, if they wish, reserve to themselves only such administrative duties as usually devolve upon a board of trustees, or directors, of a commercial organization, meeting once or twice a month and placing upon the shoulders of the superintendent all the remaining duties which the school board has, heretofore, been obliged to perform.

At the Plains School a place has been provided in the basement for toilets and fuel. The change to flush closets is a highly satisfactory improvement. The entire basement has been excavated, stout retaining walls built on all sides and an excellent cement floor laid, making a room twenty five feet wide and more than thirty one feet long. The stairways are at the front of the building and the toilets at the extreme rear; thus nearly half the floor space is used for passageways to the toilets, leaving a wood room twenty one feet by eleven feet in the center.

This waste of floor space is disappointing. There is ample room, if the arrangement had been different, for stairways, toilets, two small play rooms, a furnace, and coal bins. As the toilets are now located, the large expenditure has not provided a place for a furnace and coal bins that is satisfactory. Either the boys must traverse a passage between coal bins and furnace to reach their toilet or a chute will need to be used to carry coal across the boy's walk.

When the district decides to put in a furnace, I believe it would even now be the best plan to move the toilets to a position nearer the front of the building, allowing for a furnace and fuel rooms farther back, entirely separate from the rest of the basement. Teachers should have some opportunity to supervise children while they are in the toilet rooms, and for this reason, too, the toilets should be nearer the stairways.

PLAINS SCHOOL BASEMENT

If the district is not yet ready to install a furnace, some improvement should be made in the heating. The grammar school is hard to heat; and in both rooms the stoves are in a poor location, seats in the primary room being within three feet of an unprotected stove. A sheet iron jacket placed around the stove, with fresh air piped to a register underneath the stove and a ventilator in the chimney close to the floor, makes a very satisfactory heating and ventilating system. This arrangement would cost "before the war" about thirty dollars per room.

To complete the work suggested by the state authorities would require some remodeling of the building. When the district decides to do this, I believe that adjustable seats for the primary school should be placed in the upstairs room and the larger seats should be moved downstairs. This would put the principal where she could best look after the children while in the halls, at the foot of the stairways and at the head of the basement stairs.

The children at Water Street School are as worthy, of course, of good building conditions as are the children at the Plains. The program for improvement there for the next few years should include: better light, a jacketed stove, adjustable seats, chemical toilets. The immediate needs are: more light in the boys' toilet and a double cover on one seat which should serve as a urinal. The shed floor needs some repairs.

Conveyance of children is becoming a most difficult problem. Legislation now pending would make definite rules concerning this troublesome matter. With so large a number of children carrying dinners, our remodeled buildings should have a small domestic arts room where some article of food brought by the children could be cooked and served hot each day.

The school board of last year in estimating the needs for text books and scholars supplies failed to provide enough for the eighteen months to September first. The superintendent is handicapped by lack of funds, having, when he went into office, less than fifty dollars for an entire school year. The money appropriated has already been spent. I urgently recommend that the school board ask for enough money for this purpose to keep us supplied for the eighteen months ahead.

It is probable that somewhat larger salaries must be anticipated if we are to keep our present teachers for the coming year or to secure good teachers to fill vacancies.

To summarize, then, I would recommend: 1. That a definite program be outlined for completing, in a term of years, the remodeling of the school buildings that are in use. 2. That during the coming year the heating at the Plains be improved and that screens be placed in front of the toilets. 3. That the shed floor at Water Street be repaired and that small changes be made in the toilets there. 4. That the school board notify the selectmen that one hundred fifty dollars will be required for text books, scholars' supplies, and flags. 5. That money be provided to anticipate some increase in salaries.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE W. SUMNER.
